

Facilitating Interprofessional Education in a Health or Care Setting

An interactive half-day course delivered online

This half-day course is for educators, mentors and clinical supervisors from all healthcare professions, who are interested in developing opportunities for interprofessional education (IPE) in a health or care setting. Whether you are starting your journey with IPE or exploring new ways of developing what you are already doing, this course will help you take IPE forward.

The learning outcomes specifically related to IPE in a health or social care setting, are:

- Explore the drivers for IPE
- Discuss the common challenges and hurdles in planning and implementing IPE, and strategies for overcoming these challenges
- Explore ways in which clinical skills can be used as a vehicle for IPE
- Identify opportunities for IPE which take into account learning environment, context and resources
- Review the evaluation and assessment methods which could be used for IPE

This interactive half-day course will be delivered online by educators experienced in facilitating IPE within health and care settings.

Course Date:

St Andrews: 28th June 2022

Time: 09.30 – 12.30 (BST)

Cost:

£30.00

Book online at med.st-andrews.ac.uk/short-courses

