

Flagship Symposium

62nd St Andrew's Day Festival: Updates on Acute Medicine

Thu 24 – Fri 25 November 2022

Thursday 24th November:

Session 1: Common complexities, avoiding facile familiarity

- Can we fix it? Recurrent infections and antimicrobial stewardship
- Preserved ejection fraction heart failure – when to call the cardiologist
- Rashes for the acute physician

Session 2: Equity in a pandemic

- Covid 19 outcomes based on race and gender
- Sir James Cameron Lecture: COVAX and vaccine equity: lessons learnt, Dr Ayoade Alakija

Session 3: Inclusivity and diversity in healthcare

- Differential attainment in healthcare workforce education and training in the UK
- Civility saves lives

Session 4: The ailing abdomen: what's the 'matter'?

- Nephrotic syndrome: primary and secondary
- Diarrhoea at the front door: updates in inflammatory bowel disease
- Medical and surgical challenges of the bariatric patient

Friday 25th November:

Session 1: Making good decisions in medical admissions

- Use of non-invasive ventilation in acute and chronic respiratory failure (COPD and Sleep Apnoea)
- Front door frailty and realistic medicine in action
- High yield radiology at the front door

Session 2: Changing lives

- Adverse childhood experiences
- Healthcare for prisoners

Session 3: Is it a horse or is it a zebra?

- How to spot a metabolic disorder in an adult
- Maternal medicine – how to keep your NEWS lower than the patient
- Dizziness for the general physician

Session 4: Novel drug therapies

- SGLT-2 inhibitors (gliflozins) – should we put them in tap water?
- Complications from contemporary cancer treatments

An early bird discount
will be available until
26 October
2022

All grades of medical, nursing, scientific staff, allied health professionals and medical students are most welcome. You can register for in-person, online or on-demand attendance. Talks available to all delegates on-demand for 28 days post event.

For further details and to book online visit:

events.rcpe.ac.uk

Eileen Strawn, Symposium Coordinator

Email: e.strawn@rcpe.ac.uk